

Community Plan SFY 2009
Boards with Outstanding and/or Exemplary Practices

Board	Outstanding or Exemplary Practice
AHV	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>* A success model for workforce development goals, priorities, objectives, and quality improvement processes; and</li> <li>* A success model for inter-system collaboration, in particular your plans to collaborate with universities/colleges for training programs.</li> </ul>
Ashland	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>* Description of the current state that includes patterns, trends, current challenges and achievements;</li> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment that is service based; and</li> <li>*A success model that links Resilience goals and priorities to strategies and objectives, and of particular note is your school liaison program</li> </ul>
Ashtabula	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>* A success model for conducting a community needs assessment, with a high level of constituent involvement.</li> </ul>
Clermont	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the current state; and</li> <li>*A success model for continuity of care planning, and physical and mental health integration.</li> </ul>
Columbiana	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of your current state, in particular the Recovery focus throughout;</li> <li>A success model for conducting a community needs assessment;</li> <li> A success model that links Recovery and Resiliency goals and priorities to strategies and objectives;</li> <li>*A success model for workforce development goals, priorities, objectives and quality improvement practices;</li> <li>*A success model of inter-system collaboration, noted by the team was the diversity of the collaborations, focused on both youth and adults; and</li> <li>*An outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and strategies for development and use of various data bases.</li> </ul>
Cuyahoga	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>* Description of current state, in particular the discussion reflecting a dedication to implementing and sustaining best practices and continued collaboration.</li> <li>*Inter-system collaboration, apparent in your current state and your plan, in particular as related to the criminal justice system (both youth and adults) and your plans to support integration of physical and mental health care services for older adults; and</li> <li>*An outstanding discussion of the evaluation of the plan implementation, including use of various data elements.</li> </ul>
Fairfield	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the current state.</li> </ul>
Franklin	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A success model in the area of cultural competency, specifically your efforts to recruit employees that are bi-lingual and representative of the diversity of the persons you serve, and your plan to provide a wide range of training programs; and</li> <li> Outstanding discussion of the use of various data bases to evaluate your plan and the involvement of a Consumer and Family Advisory Council in this process.</li> </ul>

Geauga	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment with a high level of constituent engagement;</li> <li>*A success model for determining priorities in your planning process;</li> <li>*A success model that links Recovery goals and priorities to strategies and objectives; and</li> <li>*A success model for continuity of care planning.</li> </ul>
Gallia, Jackson, Meigs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>* A success model for description of the current state, clear and comprehensive description with outstanding clarity.</li> <li>* A success model for inter-system collaboration, in particular with the adult criminal justice system (mh court and CIT) and Intensive Home Based Treatment (IHBT).</li> </ul>
Hamilton	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>* A success model for conducting a community needs assessment: Thorough and comprehensive, especially regarding the information in Addendum # 3.</li> <li>*A success model due to the planning process that identified a great depth and breadth of resources.</li> </ul>
Hancock	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the current state; and</li> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment</li> </ul>
Huron	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of your Board area's current state;</li> <li>*Excellent clarity and description of the community needs assessment process;</li> <li>*A success model that links resilience goals and priorities to strategies and objectives;</li> <li>*A success model for reducing Residential Treatment Center (RTC) utilization and overall placements; and</li> <li>*A success model for workforce development goals, priorities, objectives and quality improvement</li> </ul>
Logan - Champaign	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>* An outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and the strategies for development and use of various databases, in particular how data is used to improve staff performance.</li> </ul>
Lake	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the current state, in particular the work described in crisis intervention /response and disaster preparedness;</li> <li>*Recovery supports and initiatives that are apparent throughout your plan; and</li> <li>*Inter-system Collaboration, in particular your collaborative work with both the adult and juvenile justice systems</li> </ul>
Licking – Knox	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the current state.</li> </ul>
Medina	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the current state;</li> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment, with a high level of constituent engagement;</li> <li>*A success model that links Resilience goals and priorities to strategies and objectives;</li> <li>*A success model regarding inter-system collaborations; and</li> <li>*An outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and the desired state.</li> </ul>

Musking- ham	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment;</li> <li>*A success model that links Recovery goals and priorities to strategies and objectives;</li> <li>*A success model for continuity of care planning; and</li> <li>*A success model for Prevention, Consultation and Education planning</li> </ul>
Mercer, Van Wert, Paulding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the Board’s current state;</li> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment including prioritization, great stakeholder participation and a well defined process;</li> <li>*A success model describing workforce development goals, priorities, measurable objectives, quality improvement; and</li> <li>*An outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation and the Board’s desired state.</li> </ul>
Portage	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the Current State;</li> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment;</li> <li>*A success model of planning access, capacity, and quality improvement of outpatient services;</li> <li>*A success model for workforce development goals, priorities, objectives and quality improvement; and</li> <li>*An outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and the desired state; and</li> <li>*An outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and strategies for development and use of various databases.</li> </ul>
Stark	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the current state; and</li> <li>*A success model for reducing Residential Treatment Center utilization.</li> </ul>
Summit	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*Resiliency goals and priorities that link to strategies and objectives, an excellent plan to expand successful programs (IY and ECMH);</li> <li>*Inter-system collaboration that is very apparent in your current work with the adult and youth criminal justice systems, and your plan to expand and continue collaboration with both of these systems.</li> </ul>
Trumbull	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*Description of your current state and Board priorities, highlighted by the graphs;</li> <li>*Resilience Supports where you describe a range of resiliency supports;</li> <li>*Crisis Care services that depict integration and planning to provide access to services; and</li> <li>*Intersystem Collaboration apparent in your description of services to older adults, and alternatives to incarceration.</li> </ul>
Warren – Clinton	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment;</li> <li>*A success model that links Recovery and Resiliency goals and priorities to strategies and objectives;</li> <li>*A success model for planning/addressing access and capacity gaps, goals and priorities;</li> <li>*A success model for quality improvement of outpatient services;</li> <li>*A success model in inter-system collaboration;</li> <li>*An outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and the desired state; and</li> <li>*An outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and strategies for development and use of various databases.</li> </ul>
Washington	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*A success model for conducting a community needs assessment.</li> </ul>

Wayne-Holmes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>*An outstanding description of the current state;</li> <li>*An outstanding description of the relationship between the current state and the desired state;</li> <li>*A success model for planning and determining priorities;</li> <li>*A success model that links Recovery and Resiliency goals and priorities to strategies and objectives;</li> <li>*A success model for continuity of care planning;</li> <li>*A success model for reducing RTC utilization and implementing and sustaining best practices;</li> <li>*A success model in the area of crisis care and addressing access and capacity gaps;</li> <li>*A success model for planning access, capacity and quality improvement of outpatient services;</li> <li>*A success model for workforce development goals, priorities, objectives and quality improvement;</li> <li>*A success model in inter-system collaboration;</li> <li>*A success model for prevention, consultation and education planning;</li> <li>*A success model for cultural competency;</li> <li>*There is an outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and the desired state; and</li> <li>*There is an outstanding discussion of the relationship between the evaluation plan and strategies for development and use of various databases.</li> </ul>
--------------	--